Marble Mirror is solid, durable and meant to last. Year after year after year. The classic design and clean aesthetics, inspired by the style in late 50's Italy, give the mirror a great iconic value. An object to be used and enjoyed everyday – and some day, maybe even passed on to future generations.

Arianna Lelli Mami and Chiara Di Pinto at STUDIOPEPE. explains, “We like the Italian aesthetic from the late 50's and up – back then the educated and sophisticated growing middle class had a style who was very well represented by masters such as Caccia Dominioni, Gio Ponti and De Carli and in Michelangelo Antonioni's movies like ‘La notte’. A style, which used a lot of precious materials such as marble, brass, precious woods and patterns.”

STUDIOPEPE. wants their designs to be durable enough to last. Like, really last. They elaborate, “We like to use really great materials, which gain beauty over the years – not the opposite. We believe that such beautiful design product has to last almost forever. It's like Dostoevskij said: ‘Beauty will save the world!’.”

We couldn't agree more.
